

The Kona Hotel

A Hawaiian Waltz by Robert L. Stoffer "Konabob"

copyright 7/2002

(Intro) ... F -- G -- C -- G

On the ^C side of an ^B old country ^C highway

There ^F stands the old ^C Kona Hotel

If her ^F walls could talk of the ^C years ^B passing ^C by

Oh, ^D what ^G tales they'd tell --

Of ^C travelers from over the ^B island

And ^F malihini from over the ^E sea

And ^F old fashioned ^C sweethearts who ^{B Bb A} return every year

On their ^D an - ni - ver - sar - y ^{G - G aug}

Like a ^C gracious old woman in the ^B blush of her ^C youth

You might ^F say that she wears the ^E years well

Not a ^F day passes by that the ^C sun ^{B Bb A} doesn't shine

On the ^D doors of the ^G Kona ^C Hotel ^G

--(Instrumental)

Like a ^C gracious old woman in the ^B blush of her ^C youth

You might ^F say that she wears the ^E years well

Not a ^F day passes by that ^C love ^{B Bb A} doesn't lin-ger

At the ^D doors of the ^G Kona ^C Hotel
